Time Will Pass, Anyway

It doesn't matter what you do, how you invest your time, your life, your money, your efforts, it really doesn't matter. At the end, time will pass by.

Do you feel that you are using your time every day doing things that really matter in life?

Who is around you? Who is near you? Are you communicating with love with those who talk with you?

More importantly, are you deeply connected with God through His Holy Spirit?

As the year begins, you should reflect on what is more important in your life. If, for whatever reason, the Lord decides that this will be your last year of life, imagine how wonderful it would be for those who are near you to see that you are loving, patient, giving, truly godly, and a committed servant of God.

You do many things with your life. You have done many things already. But you still have time to do many more things with your life. Try to redirect your efforts towards the most important objective, which is to please God with your own life.

If you plan to have a year like that, you will need to focus on this day and live every day the same way.

Don't waste your life with regrets, much less being miserable, because of whatever reasons. Don't make that mistake. The best thing you can do every day is to enjoy your life with whatever you have, with whoever is near you. Enjoy life in the Lord!

The Lord God gave you life so that you can enjoy it in His presence, always doing what is right.

Chapter 31 and 2024

You might wonder about the new year and what will happen. The following Scriptures come from Chapter 31 of the Book of the Prophet Jeremiah. The context in Jeremiah 31: The kingdom of Israel has been divided like our country is divided. Somehow you are divided, too. Part of you wants to do good, part of you does not. Let me share with you some applications of Chapter 31 in your life today, particularly for the year 2024.

“The Lord God will save His people from those who are stronger.” (31.11b)

This year our Lord God will do awesome things for His people. 2024 is a year of battles, and you must fight with faith and strength.

“I will be the God of all the tribes of Israel. And they will be my people.” (31.1b) All the people who are part of the Israel of God, on Earth, will experience the feeling of “belonging to God.”

“The people who escaped the enemy’s sword will find comfort in the desert. Israel will go there looking for rest.” (31.2b) Even those who did wrong things, now find the troubles (desert), a place to reflect and regain trust in the Lord. “From far away, the Lord will appear to His people.” (31.3a) The Lord says, “I love you people with a love that continues forever. That is why I have continued showing you kindness.” (31.3b) “They will come back crying, but I will lead them and comfort them. I will lead them by streams of water. I will lead them on an easy road, where they will not stumble.” (31.9)

You, as a true believer, an Israelite of God, have a tremendous opportunity this year to experience the power of our Almighty God, as long as you read the Bible daily, believe it with all your heart, and live accordingly with the principles of the Scripture. This is the promise of God for you:

“Their faces will shine with happiness about the good things the Lord gives them. He will give them grain, new wine, olive oil, young sheep and cattle. They will be like a garden that has plenty of water. And the people of Israel will not be troubled anymore.” (31.12) “My people will be filled and satisfied with the good things I give them.” (31.14b) You will be able to work hard, take care of your job or business, and witness the greatness of the Lord, and still learn to be satisfied in the Lord every single day of your life.

"Let It Go, Let It Go!"

Isaiah 43:18-19 - "Forget the former things; So don't remember what happened in earlier times. Don't think about what happened a long time ago, because I am doing something new! Now you will grow like a new plant. Surely you know this is true. I will even make a road in the desert, and rivers will flow through that dry land."

When I think about the new year, I am also thinking about the previous year and everything that happened during that year. If I am not careful, I will begin thinking about all the things that I did that were not good. I will recount all the little and big things that I did, to others, to myself, or...to the Lord. Was someone hurtful toward me? Did they say something to someone else about me? Or, was I mean toward someone? Was I unkind in my words or actions?

It's hard to forgive others, I understand that. However, when we don't forgive, when we hold on to that anger and bitterness, and when we constantly are rehashing all those hurtful memories, our health becomes in danger. All of the following things can be the result of unforgiveness: stroke, heart attack, colds/flu, chronic anxiety, and many other diseases.

That's why it is SO important for us to LET GO OF THE PAST, and to FORGIVE others. What works well for me is to pray for that person. I know that's hard, but if you begin by saying simple things like, "Lord, please bless so and so today. Amen", each day you will see that it becomes easier and easier, and you will even find yourself praying longer for that person. You will soon see that you are no longer harboring unforgiveness or anger. We all know that the Lord told us to forgive. Telling Him you can't forgive means you are telling Him it's impossible. IF He told you that you MUST forgive, OBVIOUSLY you can. However, no one said it was going to be easy.

Colossians 3:13 - "As the Lord has forgiven you, so you also MUST forgive."

Let's start the New Year with a clean slate. Let go of everything that you have been holding on to. Free yourself from those chains. You will begin to feel better mentally, as well as physically! Remember... He is doing something NEW in you!

Happy New Year!!
